

BISHOP OF LONDON LEAVES AS GUEST OF J. P. MORGAN

Bishop Satterlee and Other Clergymen Go to Richmond.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew Delegates All Say Good-By.

In J. Pierpont Morgan's private car, attached to a special train bearing several hundred delegates to the Episcopal convention in Richmond, the bishop of London and his party left Washington at 10:20 o'clock this morning, after being the guest of Bishop Satterlee since Friday last.

The lord bishop arrived at the Pennsylvania station shortly before 10 o'clock and entered unobserved through the side entrance, going immediately to the special train, which was in waiting. To the rear of the train was attached Mr. Morgan's private car, the Atlas, and the bishop found the noted financier awaiting him. Mr. Morgan will be an attendant upon the general conference at Richmond.

J. P. Morgan's Guests.

Traveling with the bishop and his host in the Atlas will be Bishop Satterlee and Mrs. Satterlee, Bishop Jacob, of St. Albans; Bishop Montgomery, the Rev. Dr. McKim, of the Church of the Epiphany; Dr. W. C. Rives, the Rev. Dr. De Vries, of St. Mark's; Charles T. Warner, secretary to Bishop Satterlee, and the lord bishop of London's chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Anderson, and his companion, Mr. Christopher. It is possible that some of the other prominent clergymen on the special train will be invited to join the bishop's immediate party en route. Mr. Morgan's party also includes the bishop of Albany and Mrs. Doane, Bishop Lawrence and Mrs. Lawrence, of Massachusetts; Dr. Huntington, Mrs. Markoe, and Mrs. Townsend.

The bishop of London's departure from Washington was unmarked by ostentation of any kind, and he stopped at the entrance to the train gates for a moment or more to shake hands with those who crowded about. This little ceremony was made still more interesting by Bishop Satterlee, who introduced the lord bishop to one of the gatekeepers, with whom the distinguished prelate shook hands, saying pleasantly in his peculiar accent:

"I am sure now that I have met the guardian at the gate, he will see to it that we reach Richmond without any of your American wrecks."

J. P. Morgan and party, who reached the city yesterday, came by Washington to have the bishop join them here.

St. Andrew Delegates Leave.

Among those from Washington who will attend the Richmond convention are the following clerical delegates:

The Rev. Dr. Randolph McKim, the Rev. Dr. Alfred Harding, the Rev. R. P. Williams, and the Rev. E. S. R. The lay delegates are Thomas Nelson Page, Charles H. Stanley, of Laurel, chancellor of the diocese; Dr. W. C. Rives and Arthur S. Browne.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 1.—All is now in readiness for the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America, which will meet in this city tomorrow. The sessions will be attended by many distinguished men from many lands.

The House of Bishops will meet in the State capitol on the hill, and one hundred bishops will attend. The House of Delegates, composed of four clergymen and four laymen from each diocese, will hold its sessions in Old St. Paul's Church. There will be 600 at these sessions.

The meeting will be on historic ground. Three hundred years ago the first Episcopal service was read on Jamestown Island and the first diocesan council of the American church

Major Sylvester Asks $1-096,000 to Run Department Next Year.

Telephone operators at Police Headquarters are releasing that Major Sylvester has included in his annual estimates to the Commissioners an item to increase their salaries from $50 to $75 a month.

There are two operators on duty all the time. They work eight-hour "tricks," corresponding to the three-platoon system now in vogue with the patrolmen. These six men handle all the telephone business of the department, making a complete record of every arrest and every report made by the different precincts.

A total appropriation of $1,096,538.25 is asked by Major Sylvester. This is an increase of $125,762.25 over the amount appropriated last year. More than half of the increase is for salaries.

The following additions to the force are recommended: Two sergeants, 22 privates of class 3, 15 of class 2, 12 of class 1; 5 mounted officers, and 1 clerk. Salary increases are recommended as follows: Three clerks from $800 to $1,000 each; six telephone operators from $50 to $75 each; mounted inspector, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, and privates, increases from $250 to $300; and two police matrons from $600 to $720 each; harbor patrol engineer, $340 to $410; fireman $450 to $520; and desk-hand, $350 to $400; drivers and hostlers for House of Detention, $540 to $600; guards and matrons, $500 to $570.

FAITHFUL OXEN AT NAVY YARD GIVE WAY TO STEAM ENGINE; TO GO ON AUCTION BLOCK

Bill and Alex, the last pair of oxen owned by the United States Navy, and for the last twenty years familiar sights at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, like the old frigate Saratoga, are to be sold at auction, the Navy Department having decided that they are too antiquated for the needs of a modern yard. There are few more intelligent animals than Bill and Alex to be found anywhere, according to officers of the navy who have seen them at work.

"These are the days of the auctioneer," said Lieutenant McIntyre, of the cruiser Washington. "Just as we have about forgotten the old Saratoga that was ordered sold a few weeks ago, we are grieved to hear that the Portsmouth oxen are to go the same way. Those oxen are wonderful animals. They are slow, but like the turtle, they get there just the same. It takes too long for them to get there, though, and so from this on the modern railway will be the means of transportation used at Portsmouth, just as it is at the New York, Mare Island, and the other U. S. navy yards."

The Portsmouth oxen knew what the different whistles and bells meant. They were slow beyond belief when they were going away from their stables, but when the stop work whistle sounded they were off for their stalls like a pair of race horses.

In the old days the ox was the principal means of transportation at the navy yards, and it is only a few years since they were used at the great navy yard at Mare Island, San Francisco. There is a story in the navy that when the Mare Island oxen were superseded by steam engines the workmen in the yard were so prejudiced against the change that they housed up the engines and managed to keep them hidden a year before the Government found out about it and made the men do the work in the way that it wanted it done.

was held in Richmond a few years after the Revolutionary war. It was here also that the first bishop of the American church was elected.

Prominent Divines to Attend.

Among the prominent clergymen who will attend are the Rt. Rev. A. F. Wilmington Ingram, lord bishop of London; the Rt. Rev. Edgar Jacob, bishop of St. Albans, whose episcopal residence is in West London; the Rt. Rev. John Philip Du Moulin, bishop of Niagara; the Rt. Rev. Enos Nuttall, bishop of the West Indies; Bishop H. of the American church, the Rt. Rev. Dr. Daniel S. Tuttle, bishop of Missouri.

Among the prominent laymen will be J. P. Morgan. He has as his guests Bishop Doane, of Albany; Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts; and Mrs. Lawrence, and the Rev. Dr. Huntington.

Some events for which definite dates have been assigned include the united offering to be made by the women's auxiliary of the Board of Missions, on the morning of October 2; an historical meeting on October 4, when the bishop of London will speak, and the men's thank offering service, on the evening of October 5.

Will Take Up Negro Question.

In the opinion of the leaders, no subject will call for closer consideration by the convention than the status of the negro in the church. In the three years since the last general convention, there has been wide discussion of the work among negroes and most authorities agree that it is far from satisfactory. The Episcopal Church is one of the few religious bodies of America that it not divided into Northern and Southern sections.
